Established in the year 2004, Beijing International

Music Festival & Academy (BIMFA) is the first and still the only international music festival of its kind today in China for both performance and instruction for piano, string instruments and flute. A dream supported by dedication, hard work, and a stellar roster of faculty, from a total of about 60 participants in the inaugural season to over 120 today, BIMFA's growth has been a testament to its ability to offer an unforgettable musical and cultural experience for musicians from around the world.

Now in its 5th anniversary, BIMFA opens its doors for the first time to welcome participants of all ages with the newly established Extension Division. The festival will now offer to all musicians, professional, students and amateurs alike, the experience of music making in the musically infused Chinese environment, while being surrounded by one of the most fascinating cultures of the world.
